Marvekleen uses specially nano-sodium chloride that is electrically charged with electrolyzed water to create a new substance called super hypochlorous acid that is a compound that occurs naturally in our body and is produced by our white blood cells and researched, tested and proven to kill viruses including coronavirus, bacteria and is ideal for disinfection. Marvekleen is mildly acidic which is similar to the PH level on our skin.

Marvekleen have the capacity to destroy harmful bacteria and viruses on surfaces and water while yet being completely safe on food and human skin. One application can allow the disinfection effect to last up to several hours making it an affordable disinfection solution for daily use. Its active ingredients are effective against Gram+ and Gram- bacteria, MRSA VRE, MRSE, HIV, HBV, HCV, Norovirus and Coronavirus.

Marvekleen can be dispensed using a pump spray bottle, ULV fogger, humidifier (to disinfect air space in a room or a car) or wiped on a surface. It also doubles up as a hand sanitiser. Marvekleen is literally nature's "super disinfectant".

Marvekleen has no colour, no scent and will not stain clothing. In the light of current coronavirus outbreaks Marvekleen is the ideal personal disinfection solution to be applied at the entry points of workplaces, schools, gyms, offices, hotels, restaurants, religious centres, shopping malls and factories etc...
